

SUBSTITUTE TEACHERS WANTED

For many recent college graduates, or even those looking to enter teaching later in life, the thought of being a substitute teacher is a distant one. Yet, from my experience, many solid and dependable substitute teachers often become the first person called upon when a teaching position opens up. Being a substitute is a great way to show your dependability to a district, hone your classroom skills and work with amazing students in a collaborative setting.

For more information on obtaining a Emergency 30-Day Teaching Permit call Gary Storts, Superintendent at South Bay Union Elementary School District at your convenience.
